Antioch Beats Grant's Varsity, Sophomores; To Play Ela on Friday

Game with Libertyville On Monday Last Before Regional

Antioch High will end its conference season tomorrow evening at Lake Zurich, playing Ela-Vernon.

The Sequoits staged a fourth-quarter rally here last Friday night in whipping the Grant Bulldogs 46 to 37 and are now tied with them for fourth place in the conference standing.

Grant will play Wauconda at Ingleside tomorrow night and the Sequoits will be playing the Ela Bears in their own den. Both games will be closely contested and Grant and Antioch will be fighting to retain their first division standing.

Regardless of the outcome Antioch High school spectators at Friday's game have no doubt as to the superiority this year of the Sequoits over the Bulldogs.

Behind at the half 21-18 and at the three-quarter post 32-30, Antioch tore loose in the final quarter with a display of basketball prowess that smothered their opponents.

Top points man for the Sequoits was Buzz Haviland, but it was the work of Bud Dittmer and Bob Lubkeman in grabbing the rebounds during the final moments of play that put the team out in front.

It was all a matter of team work that gave the Sequoits the victory as the score summary shows. All of them handled the ball well and were a threat in the scoring.

Grant had to depend on Stob's grabbing the rebound and Smith's shooting and when they were stopped, the threat of the Bulldogs was over.

Antioch sophomores won the preliminary from the Grant sophomores 47 to 24, and are well established in second place in the conference standing. Bruce Stahmer was high scorer for Antioch with 17 points.

Although the game with Ela-Vernon is the last game for the Sequoits in the conference, they have another game with Libertyville there Monday. Antioch will get a (Continued on page 5)

Defense Council Meeting Set for Thursday, Feb. 22

A meeting of the Antioch Village Defense Council will be held at the Antioch Village hall next Thursday evening, February 22, to go into more detail with plans for the village in the event of an emergency.

A meeting on February 8 went into the possibilities of an aerial attack on Chicago or the North Shore and a discussion of the possibilities followed.

R. C. Edmundson, chairman of the local committee, will present a tentative plan for the village at the meeting Thursday, and plans at present call for a number of meetings, each to take up one phase of the general plan, to be held in the future.

First National Bank Has Increased Insurance on Deposits of Customers

W. E. Schroeder, president of the First National Bank of Antioch today announced receipt from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Washington, D. C., of a new certificate of membership giving effect to the recent increase in insurance coverage to $10,000. The First National bank has been a member of FDIC since 1933.

President Schroeder pointed out that this insurance does not cost depositors of the bank a single penny. The surplus of Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation which now exceeds $1,300,000,000, in addition to all deposit insurance losses and operating expenses of the Corporation has been paid in by the 13,050 insured banks of the Nation in the form of annual assessments based on their total deposits.

"Under the leadership of its Chairman, Maple T. Hart, and his predecessors," Mr. Schroeder said, "the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has made a great contribution to the soundness and solvency of our banking system and to the safety and security of bank depositors. It has been seven years since any depositor of an insured bank suffered a loss, a new record for depositor safety in this Nation."

Benedictine Father Tells Of Trip to Holy Land

Father Felix of the Benedictine monastery at Benet Lake, who recently returned from a tour of the Holy Land spoke before the Holy Name society of St. Peter's church at its breakfast meeting Sunday. He told of religious conditions abroad. He spent three weeks in Palestine and was privileged to conduct mass at Bethlehem at Christmas time.

The society at its meeting Sunday planned its St. Patrick's Day carnival.

Men's Club Hears Mason on Lincoln At First Meeting

Thirty-seven men of the community were present at the first meeting of the Antioch Men's club, held at the Antioch Methodist church on Monday evening, February 12. Chas. Mason, Waukegan lawyer and a former District Attorney, was the principal speaker. The main business at the meeting was the appointment of a nominating committee, which will be headed by Geo. Good, and has as members James McMillen, John Lucas, V. J. Keeney, and M. R. Kruzan.

Purposes of the new organization, as set forth by the organizers is to provide a closer contact with the church of men of the community and to provide social contact between them. Next meeting is set for Monday, March 5th, when election of officers will take place after a report of the nominating committee.

Bernard Guillaume, one of the organizers of the club, acted as toastmaster at the meeting and group singing was directed by Chas. Watson. Accompaniment was provided by O. L. Raether at the piano.

Mr. Mason, a recognized authority of the life of Lincoln, began his talk by saying the great man was not only one of the greatest Americans but perhaps the greatest.

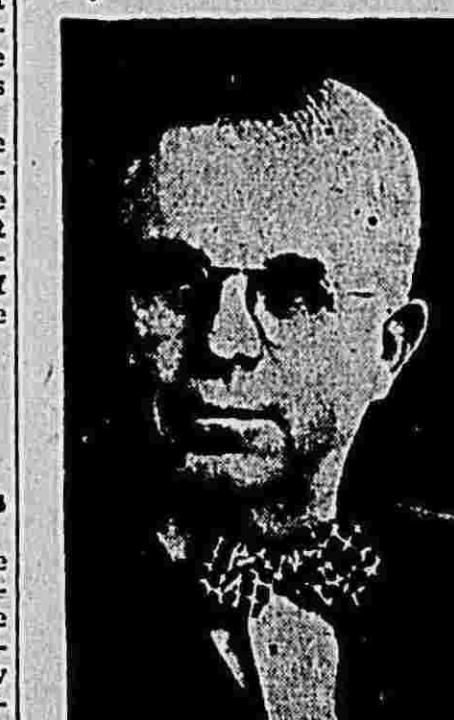

"Lincoln," quoted Mason, "spent 31 of his 56 living years in Illinois. While living in Illinois Abe demonstrated his great wrestling ability when he threw the Bully."

Charles Mason brought to light in his talk that there was no evidence of real love between Mr. Lincoln and Ann Rutledge. "They were not even engaged, although he naturally felt bad when she died," said Mason. "All the exaggerated love stories between them are complete lies. Lincoln loved only Mary Todd."

The speaker explained that Abraham Lincoln took four things with him to Washington when he was elected President, patience, honesty, simple faith and humor. The speaker went into detail in reviewing The Gettysburg Address and made note that on November 17, it was four score and seven years ago that Abe made this great Address.

Charles E. Mason

The interesting point being that Mr. Lincoln began his address with "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation." Mr. Mason ended his great speech in saying the greatest speech of all time was The Sermon on the Mount, and The Gettysburg Address was one of very few speeches that stood close to it.

Politics Simmers With Competition Shown for Town, Road Supervisors

Maplethorpe, Wolfinbarger Not Seeking Re-Election As Trustees

Politics in Antioch and vicinity is commencing to crackle with competition looming for supervisor and road superintendent at the April 3 election.

Anthony J. Scully is circulating his petitions in preparation for running against William Rosing, supervisor incumbent, who already has filed. There is a rumor that a third contestant may enter the race.

Town Clerk Llewellyn Van Patten, Jr., said that two are in the race for the road supervisor job so far, Robert J. Webb, incumbent, already having filed and Milton Crandall, a trucker, residing at Lake Catherine, having signed signatures for his candidacy.

In addition to election of the above, a special referendum will be held, at the petition of the road commissioner to improve certain of the township roads.

To Elect Trustees

In the village, three trustees are to be elected on April 17. The terms of James Maplethorpe, Carl A. Wolfinbarger, and Murrill Cunningham will expire.

Maplethorpe and Wolfinbarger have said definitely they will not seek election. Maplethorpe doesn't want to run and Wolfinbarger said that his work which takes him away from the village so much of the time, doesn't permit him to give the attention to the office it deserves.

Cunningham hasn't said as yet what he will do but he is being urged strongly to run.

A slate of candidates is in the making but the list isn't much more than rumor at this time.

Korean War, Civilian Defense Increase Demands On R. C. Services

Plans for the new addition to the Antioch high school building will be furnished to five contracting firms this week, according to information furnished today by R. C. Edmundson, principal at the school. Edmundson said that more than forty firms were furnished general information about the project some weeks ago, and that of these five had been selected to be given a set of the plans that bids could be obtained.

All of the bidders are Chicago firms with the exception of the Tonyan Construction Company, McHenry, Illinois. Others receiving plans are: Joseph J. Duffy Company, 4994 Elston Ave., Chicago; Peter Hamlin Construction Company, 9 South Clinton St., Chicago; The George Sollitt Construction Company, 109 North Dearborn St., Chicago; E. W. Sprout Construction Company, 173 West Madison St., Chicago.

Antioch's goal has been set at $2,500.

Walter T. Meyer, Waukegan, has been made chairman of the campaign for Lake County and a goal for the county has been set at $70,000.

A house-to-house canvass will be made by women and Cermak has been asked to enlist the help of women in this community to take part.

Cermak has been asked to attend a meeting of workers at the chapter headquarters in Waukegan on Feb. 21.

A sharp increase in demands on the organization as the result of the Korean war and expanded civil defense commitments have made necessary increased quotas.

Economic Highlights

The Civil Air Patrol—popularly known as CAP—is now in the process of expansion. The work of this group during the last war will be remembered, especially in the field of submarine spotting. CAP pilots flew some 100,000 missions in search of subs then, and spotted 173 enemy underwater vessels.

The organization of CAP is extremely unusual, perhaps unique. It is commanded by Air Force Major General Lucas V. Beau, and is an auxiliary of the Air Force. USAF officers staff its national headquarters. Members of CAP wear the same uniforms as the Air Force, save for insignia. Yet, on the operating level, it is a purely voluntary civilian activity, made up of businessmen, students, farmers, professional people and others who share a common interest in flying and a desire to be of service to the country in an emergency. Incidentally, much, though by no means all, of CAP's duties lie in the area of civil defense.

The magazine "Flying" recently carried an article by General Beau which describes in some detail CAP's mission. Here, in brief, is what is planned.

First, CAP will maintain a pool of at least 100,000 selected cadets trained in ground and preflight subjects to help furnish pilots for the Air Force. This goal has not yet been reached but General Beau says CAP is moving steadily toward it. Cadets may attend a two-week summer encampment at Air Force bases.

Second, CAP is to develop an auxiliary radio communications net within its geographic boundaries. In event of war, this net would be available to civil defense agencies, except for CAP stations near USAF bases that would be required by the military.

Third, CAP, if so required by the Air Force or Navy, will maintain anti-submarine patrols along the coasts of the continental United States, Puerto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands.

Mrs. Antoinette Gleason who was a patient at Victory Memorial hospital for a few days last week has returned home and her husband, John Gleason is recovering from a broken leg.

On Monday evening, Feb. 19, the regular meeting of the Lake Villa

Fourth, the organization will participate in search and rescue work as an auxiliary of MATS' Air Rescue Service.

These are primarily military missions. However, General Beau says, "The Air Force has assured us that we will be able to give most of our efforts to civil defense." CAP wing commanders will cooperate closely with the civil defense coordinators. A number of mobile support units, each consisting of 42-man teams with 10 planes, three trucks and a jeep, will be set up, and will be prepared to move swiftly to any critical area if trouble develops.

CAP's capabilities for civil defense work are many. The organization will patrol roads and flooded and snowbound areas, evacuate the sick and injured, transport medical and food supplies, take over the job of traffic control if normal facilities are disrupted, provide communications by the use of mobile generators if the power supply fails, and so on.

Finally, CAP has no intention of trying to dominate civilian flying. In General Beau's words, "We invite other civilian flying organizations to cooperate with CAP to establish a civilian air force that may be used throughout the country in an emergency . . . We can, and we will, cooperate with and assist all other organizations who join in civil defense." CAP is particularly interested in having volunteers join now, while there is time to train them adequately.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

You know folks, one thing this Nation could do, is sit down with its chin in its hand, relax, and think. We been so busy with speed and fun that we had to farm-out our thinking. We need a complete mental over-haul, valve grind and oil change. Every mama and papa could take a week off, take a squint into tomorrow, figure out at which end of the horn they are coming out if they keep on accepting the ideas of our hired horn-rimmed theory gentry.

Now don't just look out the window or say Uncle Josephus is not talking to me. And this goes not only for mama and papa, it goes for the Commercial Club trustees, and for the hungry and sometimes half lazy book review and lunch club listeners. Here is how it works. A heavy Govt. thinker shows up. He says, would you nice people like a Federal gift toward a dandy swimming pool, airport, dam across Salt Creek. Hot zigzaggy, and how, is the answer.

So you get the pool and the Salt Creek dam and the airport. And right there is where you look under the shell, and the gift dinero you are gazing at, it looks familiar. It should, it is the very cash money that Sambo took from you down at his income tax emporium. Tomorrow will not be so cheerful, it will be drab, maybe even dreary, if more thinking caps are not gotten out, dusted off, and donned.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Consolidated school P. T. A. will be at the school gym at 8 o'clock and Mr. Jack Koehler has prepared an interesting program using physical education classes.

Thieves broke into Lake Villa school last Thursday night and took a sum of money that was in the safe and broke locks on cupboards and cabinets, so evidently was not interested in anything but money.

SHOOT SHORT STORY

Basil's Dilemma

By Richard H. Wilkinson

AS USUAL Basil came home on the 5:35. It was after dark when he arrived in front of his house on High street. About to turn in at the gate he stopped dead still, his eyes fastened on the automobile that was parked in front of the water hydrant at the curb. A slow but rapidly mounting anger took hold of him.

The automobile was his, and he knew that his wife had left it in front of the hydrant. She had left it there despite his repeated warnings and threats and cautions and promises. Three times Pat Kearney, the officer on her beat, had spoken to him about the misdemeanor. "Now, Mr. Valentine, sur, I'll be stickin' a tag on that car of yours, if you go an leave it before that hydrant once more."

Pat's good will was valuable. Besides, Basil couldn't afford to be tagged. Even a small fine would be sorely felt. And so he had talked to Evelyn. He had pointed out the importance of obeying traffic regulations, his inability to pay fines for her negligence, the fact that Pat had spoken to him three times. And she had promised. Even though it was the "most convenient place in the world to leave the car" and she thought Pat Kearney was an "old meany," she promised to be more careful hereafter.

An idea flashed across his mind. He'd move the car down town and install it in a garage. Then he'd tell Evelyn that Pat had tagged it and that because he couldn't pay the fine he'd left the machine at police headquarters for collateral. That ought to teach her a thing or two.

Grimly he stepped to the curb and inserted his duplicate key into the door lock. His anger was at a high level; he gave the key a violent twist—which snapped it off near the stem.

He felt a little panicky. Somehow he'd have to move the machine from in front of the hydrant, or it meant paying a fine. It would take time to fetch a pair of pliers or call a garage mechanic. And Pat wouldn't listen to explanations—not after the third warning.

BAISL began to sweat. There was just one course open. He'd have to break a window, reach in and unlock the door from the inside, release the handbrake and push the vehicle beyond the forbidden parking area. He hated to resort to such a procedure, because in the end it would cost him more than a fine. Still, that was better than having Pat Kearney's ire aroused.

He felt on the ground, found a fair sized stone and without hesitation crashed it against the window. The glass splintered, but didn't break. He smacked it again and there was a great shattering inside. He unlocked the door and climbed into the driver's seat. At that moment Pat Kearney rounded the corner beyond Mark Terrace's place.

Basil worked fast. He released the handbrake, quickly disengaged and ran around back. He put his shoulder against the spare tire and began to shove. The car moved slowly.

Digging his heels into the ground Basil continued to heave with his shoulder. Thus it was that his gaze came into direct line with the license plate beneath the tail light. At first he noticed nothing unusual, but gradually it dawned on him that something was wrong. And then abruptly it struck him like a bolt from the blue. The license plate wasn't red and white, but orange and black! Which meant that the car that Basil was pushing wasn't his car at all! Though it resembled his in every respect, it belonged to some one else!

Basil straightened up. There was alarm and guilt and fear in his eyes. Without further thought on the matter, however, he started toward his own gate. But at the very moment he would have unhooked the latch, he heard a shout. Some one had come out of Mark Terrence's house and was racing toward him, and on the heel of this some one came Pat Kearney.

Warmer in Greenland

Pfc. Daniel Jones, son of Leigh Jones, Lake Villa, Rte. 2, in his last letter to his father, said that at that time it was warmer in Greenland than in Antioch. That was not saying that he would rather be in the barren wastes there than at home.

Vose Again Secretary
Lake Co. Farm Bureau;
On Executive Committee

Avery Vose, Crawford st., was re-elected secretary of the Lake County Farm Bureau during a meeting of directors at Grayslake Monday.

Ronald Paddock of near Volo, was re-elected president; E. E. Elsbury, Gurnee, again will serve as vice president; and L. A. Huebsch, Mundelein will continue as treasurer.

Vose also will serve on an executive committee with Paddock, Elsbury, Raymond Flood, Libertyville; and Walter Sage, Grayslake.

The board was so well pleased with the holding of the annual meeting at night that it set the date for the next annual meeting for the second Saturday in February, 1952.

A talk on legumes and grasses was given to a group of farmers yesterday at the Grayslake office of the Farm Bureau by J. C. Hackleman of the agronomy department, University of Illinois.

Antioch Gets Block of 250 Tickets for Game
In Regional Tournay

A block of 250 tickets for the regional basketball tournament at Woodstock has been obtained for Antioch, Principal R. E. Edmundson announced yesterday.

The tickets are for the Antioch-Crystal Lake game only and the purchaser cannot enter the gymnasium until 8 p. m. on the night of the game Tuesday, Feb. 27. The game will start at 8:30 p. m.

Townpeople as well as students can purchase the tickets for 60 cents at the high school. They call for reserved seats.

Edmundson said the tickets must be reserved by Friday, Feb. 23 as a report on the sale must be in by Monday, Feb. 26.

Tickets may be bought later for any games Antioch may play by reason of victory in the first game.

The tournament will open between Elgin and Grant and the hall will be emptied after that game.

Crystal Lake is expecting to have a rooting section between 700 and 1,000 persons.

Burglar Steals $35 at Beager's Texaco Station
Sometime Monday Night

A burglar obtained $35 in cash from the Texaco filling station of Herbert Beager on Main st., Monday night, but did not get a larger amount in currency which was better concealed.

Beager discovered the theft Tuesday morning when he opened the station and couldn't find the box of silver that George Ross, attendant, had placed beneath the cash register the night before. Only a few pennies had been left in the cash register.

The thief, or thieves, entered the station through a door leading to the women's rest room on the north side of the building. Deputy Sheriffs investigating said the door evidently was opened with a pass key.

Name is Bernard, Not George

The former Geraldine Sass doesn't call her new husband by the name of George as did the Antioch News in a recent article for the simple reason that his name is Bernard. The last name, Shostak as this paper had it, was correct.

Medical School

An A average in premedical college work is not required for admission to medical schools. Dr. Donald G. Anderson of Chicago, secretary of the American Medical Association's council on medical education and hospitals, says. According to a recent report to the council, 10 per cent of students admitted to medical schools in the United States during the academic year 1949-1950 had no better than a C-plus scholastic average in premedical college work. Many others, Dr. Anderson pointed out, had B averages.

Black Becomes White

Titanium oxide, the brilliant white pigment that is used extensively in paints is obtained chiefly from ilmenite, a black mineral containing approximately 47 per cent iron and 53 per cent titanium dioxide. While deposits are found in various parts of the United States, the chief commercial sources of supply are Travancore, India, and Norway.

Tree Vitamins

A trace of iron, boron, zinc or manganese is as essential to the health of a tree as vitamins are to a human being. If these elements are deficient in the soil, a tree's life processes begin to slow down. One of the first manifestations is chlorosis, a yellowing of the leaves between the veins due to non-formation of the green pigment called chlorophyll.

Ancient Goa

A modern footnote may be added to the decline of the once mighty Portuguese empire, if India succeeds to annexing the erstwhile rich and powerful colony of Goa. Time and encroaching jungle vines have obliterated all but a few scattered traces of Old Goa's magnificence. One portal remains of the palace built by Albuquerque. The Palace of the Inquisition, which once covered two acres, is a moulder ruin. The territory of the present colony covers a total area of about 1,300 square miles. The population, mostly native, exceeds 500,000.

Door to Knowledge

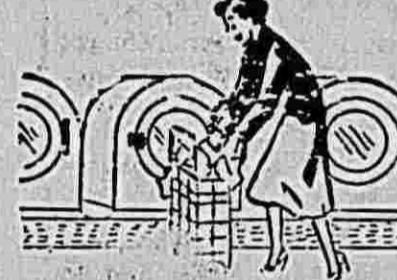

Invention of movable type by Johann Gutenberg in 1450 marked the transition from the Middle Ages to the modern age. Printing led to the spread of knowledge. From the old screw-type of press we have more recently come, through American inventions of typesetting machines and stereotyping processes, to giant newspaper presses that print with lightning speed in black and all colors of the rainbow. But the centuries-old type cases still have their place in every modern printing shop.

Hog Lice

Hogs often get heavily infested with lice in winter. They pile up in the shed to keep warm and lice spread from shoot to shoot.

- When a group of people are talking, do you seem to have trouble hearing?
- Do you have trouble hearing when you go to church, listening to the radio, television, or when seeing a movie? — do you have trouble hearing your children, grandchildren?

If your answer to any one of the above questions is "Yes," you may have a hearing loss. If your answer is yes to more than one question, your hearing is probably impaired. In either case, you should send for the FREE book "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear" or see your local Beltone Hearing Service Consultant at

SHORT STORYDaffy
Enough

By Richard H. Wilkinson

ONE DAY last spring a transcontinental air liner got off its beam over the Rocky mountains and smashed up against a rocky peak. It was a few hours before the disaster was suspected, and then the airports could only guess at the location of the wreckage.

Glen Owens, sitting alone in his cabin on the slopes of White Crest valley, heard the announcement over his dry cell set. Young Glen's cabin was located on the course of the liner's flight, and earlier in the evening he had heard sounds that now he remembered as being rather queer.

Glen strapped on his skis, loaded a pack with provisions and supplies and set off up the valley. Three hours later he saw a light and came to the wreckage. Two people were dead, and another was so badly injured that unless he had medical attention pretty quick he too would die.

On an improvised sled, Glen pulled the injured man to the nearest town and doctor.

Glen Owens not only received a reward, but he became, overnight a figure of national reputation.

Three days after this a man from Hollywood, Calif., arrived in Crest, looked up Glen and offered to pay him $500 a week to make a moving picture.

Glen smiled and shook his head. "Nope," he drawled, "I always wanted to be a legerdemainist, and now with this reward money I reckon I got my chance."

"Good gosh, man, it will take 20 weeks to make this picture. That's $10,000. Do you realize that?"

"It's a lot of money," Glen agreed, "but suppose folks liked me? Then I'd have to stay out there and keep making pictures."

"You'll be a dumbbell if you don't grab this chance."

"Maybe," said Glen good-naturedly, "I'm a dumbbell already."

"Glen! What is the matter? Last summer you wanted to start a dude ranch down in Arizona, but you didn't have any money. So you decided to go trapping for one winter so you could save enough money to buy a half-interest in a ranch and we could get married. And now you're offered $10,000 and youumble something about being a leger—whatever it is."

"Legerdemainist," Glen told her patiently.

ALL of which made swell newspaper copy. The reporters ate it up. So did readers. If Glen had been famous before, he was twice as famous now.

The next week three movie producers arrived on the scene. One of them offered a flat price of $25,000 for a single picture.

Leah Conroy was almost in tears. "Glen, for goodness' sake, try and understand what this means. In another month you'll be forgotten. It's your chance. Do you want to be a trapper all your life?"

"Thirty thousand!" said the movie magnate desperately.

Glen heaved a deep sigh. "O.K. If that's the way you want it, Leah!"

So Glen Owens went to Hollywood and made a moving picture.

Glen returned to Crest, bearing his

Then he fashioned a sled, using his skis as runners, twisted some saplings into the shape of snowshoes and wove them with twigs.

$30,000, and the next day he and Leah journeyed down into Arizona. Within a week they had purchased a ranch.

They were married in the ranch patio, and left immediately for a honeymoon to Honolulu. It was while they were on the boat that Leah asked the inevitable question.

"Well, honey, it was like this," Glen replied. "That offer of $10,000 was good, but we needed $15,000 to buy a ranch of our own, so I figured if I turned down the first offer folks would think I was daffy enough to make me more famous, and the movie folks would offer me more money. Which they did."

"Glen Owens, what is a leger—?"

"I dunno," Glen grinned. "And I figured nobody else would either. All I know is I saw it written out and copied it off so's I'd be sure to get the spelling right in case I wanted to use it."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That man's redemption rests upon his acceptance and understanding of God as omnipotent good, will be discussed in all Christian Science churches next Sunday, little of the Lesson-Sermon is "LOVE."

The Golden Text is from Zephaniah (3:17); "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing."

Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon include these passages:

"Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort; Who comforts us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God" (II Corinthians 1:3, 4).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent, for all Christianity, theology and healing, Christian and otherwise, an altered order now, as they were then, to be Christlike, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick as well as the sinning. . . . He that touches the hem of Christ's robe and masters his mortal beliefs, animality, and hate, rejoices in the proof of healing—in a sweet and certain sense that God is Love" (pp. 138, 569).

A Bond to keep us when apart,
A Look to calm a grieving heart,
An Arm of strength when waves break high,

An Ear to hear the faintest cry;
A Groan when unjust or unkind,
The Voice of Duty in the mind,
A Handclasp in temptation's hour

A living, loving, present Power.
Within the heart, true Liberty—
From fetters, fears and foes set free;

The Prince of Peace to dwell with me.

Now and through eternity:
This—this is God to me!

—Helen Rogers Smith

In this day of so much uncertainty a true word of promise would bring new hope, new life, new joy to everyone who believed. The Bible is packed with true words of promises made by God. And God is faithful and just to keep his promises—Have you ever taken God at His Word?

"Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live; turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?"

What's its Power?FIREBALL!

(Only Buick can make this statement)

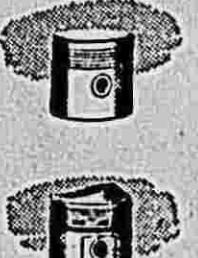

BEND an ear to the deep baritone song of this marvel motor, and you'll know we aren't fooling when we call it Fireball.

What happens beneath that brawny Buick bonnet happens in no other car in the world.

Years ahead of the rush to high-compression valve-in-head engines, Buick was in there pitching for more power from every drop of fuel.

The result: a spectacular engineering phenomenon you feel the instant you touch toe to gas treadle. A rapid-fire sequence of tiny tornados, let loose their pent-up power every five inches a Buick travels.

If you could look inside that Fireball engine, you'd see why. Instead of the flat-topped pistons used in other cars, Buick uses a turbo-top piston, like this:

So the inrushing fuel whirlwinds into a compressed ball that adds a super-urge to the downstroke of the piston.

And you get the thrill—and thrift—of this Buick "first" in every mile you drive.

More, you get a tried-and-true engine that's been polished and perfected in every detail up through the years.

Again and again, compression ratios have been stepped up to keep pace with advances in fuels. Self-setting valve lifters contribute to silence. Micropoise balance and Hi-Poised engine mountings add two more Buick exclusives.

And the silken might of this Fireball's power has been made more beautifully obedient by still another "first"—Dynaflow Drive.*

So we list as a prime reason why "smart buy's" Buick" this Fireball power plant—and a host of happy owners will say "Amen."

Better see your dealer soon.

Youth Street Gangs Of Major Concern To Nation's Police

NEW YORK — The problem of street gangs in the large cities of this country and Europe is of major concern to police officials.

In New York last year street-war gangs took the lives of ten schoolboys, but the gangs are not as numerous or powerful as five years ago, police report.

Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles and many other American cities have the problem of boys and girls who run in gangs and do mischief or worse.

In London for instance, once the world's safest big city, teenage gangs are assaulting and robbing adults and fighting among themselves with knives, blackjack and bicycle chains.

Police in Rome and other European cities have their hands full with youth gangs.

Social workers report the antisocial antics of the gangs is part of a world-wide malaise that has come out of the late war.

Years ago gangs had "celler clubs" which they used for headquarters and plotting their mischief. Now, however, the teenage gangsters "hang out" in candy stores, pool rooms, cafeteria and meet in streets and parks.

The problem of juvenile delinquency, too, is being approached in a different manner. In New York the Youth Board will spend $2,000,000 this year to prevent and control delinquency.

Police through the country are operating on the theory that increased recreation facilities for youth will cut delinquency. As a result, many communities are opening community centers or boarded up settlement houses and abandoned churches in underprivileged and crowded areas.

White Queen of Bamagwato Tribe Mother of Daughter

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — The former London stenographer, Ruth Williams, now the wife of Seretse Khama, chief of the Bamagwato tribe, has given birth to a daughter.

The white queen, whose marriage stirred up a tempest in Bechuanaland and in London, has been living alone at Serowe, Bechuanaland. Her husband has been exiled from his tribe for five years because of his marriage.

The chief was allowed to return to his homeland for a short visit with his wife following the arrival of the child.

Latvian Girl Is 150,000th Displaced Person in U.S.

WASHINGTON — A 12-year-old Latvian girl with long blonde braids was the 150,000th displaced person to arrive in the United States.

The Washington sesquicentennial commission entertained her and arranged a news conference.

She revealed she liked television very much, she liked New York city very much, she liked America very much.

"Do you plan to become an American citizen?" one of the reporters asked?

"Oh, yow," said Dace Epermanns. But she appeared puzzled at that one. Apparently it never before occurred to her that anyone might not want to.

Dace's father, Bernhards, and a 15-year-old brother, Juris, who has decided he wanted to be known as George, went to work on a Perry, N. Y., dairy farm.

Sunshine Makers Declare War on New York Rain Maker

PALISADES — New York's rain maker, Dr. Wallace H. Howell, has new troubles—as if he didn't have enough already.

The sunmakers, Dr. G. A. Sykes and Edward Twardus, have declared war on him. The two sunmakers claim they can make the sun shine and report experiments to prove it.

Dr. Howell has been seeding cloud formations with dry ice over the New York water shed in an effort to fill the city's reservoirs and eliminate the water shortage. He gets $100 a day.

The sunmakers ask $500 a day for every day they make the sun shine on condition that they pay double for the days that they fail.

Wrong Letter to Wife Costs Man Three Years

NEWPORT, KY.—A wrong letter cost Jack Baldridge three years in prison.

Baldridge, on probation for three years for a past crime, was picked up recently for not supporting his wife. While in jail he wrote two letters, one to his wife and one to the other woman.

He asked his wife to help him reform and aid him financially. The other woman's letter expressed love and saying they would go out west when he was released.

Baldridge got the letters in the wrong envelopes. His wife produced the one to the other woman in court and the Judge sent Baldridge to prison for the three year probation time.

SHORT STORY

Second Wife

By Richard H. Wilkinson

LIFE began for Lionel Almsley when he met Cynthia Trumble. She was the fulfillment of dreams that were dreamed while he sat alone by his camp fire in the wilderness, while he listened to the hoots of owls and the screeches of bobcats, and wondered if the time would ever come when somebody sat with him by the fire and listened to the night sounds that had been his only companions since graduation from the state school of forestry two years ago.

He met Cynthia when he came out of the bush one June for a short vacation. They were married the day he was due to start back into the woods.

The first week was deliciously sweet. Cynthia had been a country girl, and because Lionel was her first real love, she eagerly looked forward to spending weeks alone with him in the wilderness.

That was before they reached Woodsville, where Lionel had his base. There was a big packing company at Woodsville, run by a man named Benton, who had a son named Austin. Fresh from college young Austin had come to Woodsville to learn the packing business. Quite naturally the place was dull and boring to one so sophisticated.

Then Lionel and his new wife arrived, and Austin looked on Cynthia and vowed to know her better. Austin had that polish about him that attracts women.

So when Lionel finally headed his canoe toward Woodsville to replenish their supplies, Cynthia's pulse quickened a little, and she kept her eyes fastened on the bend in the river that would first reveal the great buildings of the packing house.

What followed made Cynthia a little ashamed. She hated to hurt Lionel, he was so fine and generous and kind. And so devoted. She thought he'd object to a divorce, and it was a little disappointing when he agreed readily.

AND SO Lionel went back into the wilderness shortly after the divorce was granted, and Cynthia, free and exultant, waited for Austin to come to her.

He came at last and stood near where she lay in a hammock. It was night and she could not see his face.

"Cynthia, darling, why did you do it? I feel like a cad, breaking up you and Lionel like that. He's a good sort and—well, I meant nothing by my attentions. It was all—well, sort of fun."

"But, darling, you do love me? You do want to marry me?" Misgivings chilled her heart.

Austin ran a finger under his collar. "Well, you see, Cynthia—you see, I can't, that is—I'm already married!"

Cynthia nearly swooned. When she again opened her eyes Austin was gone. She was alone. Panic gripped her, then fear. Later she thought of Lionel. She'd not known how to appreciate him. She'd wait. He'd be out of the bush again in three weeks. He'd understand.

It was almost unbearable, that waiting. The people of Woodsville looked at her curiously and whispered among themselves. Three weeks passed and Lionel didn't return. Another week dragged by and still no sign of him.

Then, at last, Lionel came back. Cynthia, watching from the veranda of her rooming house, saw his canoe sweep into sight, and her heart leaped. Lionel at last! Lionel, whom she'd loved and would love again. Lionel who had loved her so tenderly. Love like his didn't die. She had treated him miserably, but she'd admit all that, ask his forgiveness.

And then the canoe neared the shore and Cynthia went down to meet it. Lionel saw her, and waved a greeting.

Cynthia's heart stopped beating. There was someone else in the canoe. A girl.

The canoe touched the shore. Lionel grinned at her happily. "Cynthia, it's good to see you again. Hope you and Austin are happy." He gestured toward the girl, who had turned to stare. "Cynthia, meet the new Mrs. Ainsley."

Industrial Injuries Total
80,000 in First Quarter

WASHINGTON—The labor department has announced industrial injuries to 80,000 workers during the first quarter of the year, costing them $16,000,000 in pay.

Three hundred workers were killed and 4,300 permanently injured during the quarter, the bureau said. The total time lost was estimated at 1,800,000 man-days.

The number of injured during the first quarter of this year was 2 percent more than in the last quarter of 1949, but 11 percent less than in the first three months of last year.

The biggest accident increase was in the logging industry, which usually leads in injuries per man-hours worked. The rate jumped from 77.9 to 87.8 injuries per million man-hours.

In twenty-eight of the 120 industries surveyed, the injury rates were lower than in the previous quarter. Rates were higher in 41 and there was virtually no change in the remainder.

Wall Stains

Women who have trouble with grease on the wall behind the stove can avoid this difficulty by painting with a coat of colorless shellac. A wet rag will then remove grease spots at any time.

Uncle Sam SaysHEALTH HINTS
for LIVESTOCKPREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTHHOG CHOLERA STILL
NO. 1 HOG KILLER

Other diseases may hit harder in some communities, but the nation's No. 1 swine killer is still hog cholera.

Thousands of outbreaks are reported every year. The disease seems to run in cycles, some years being much worse than others.

Just as human tuberculosis is most frequently transmitted by tuberculosis careless or inexperienced use of vaccinating virus also may start an outbreak. In such cases, instead of protecting the animals, the unskilled vaccinator actually is giving them

the disease, although in some forms

it kills slowly.

All breeds of swine are susceptible.

At one time it was thought that the mulefoot hog was immune, but recent veterinarians disproved this idea.

In view of the many ways which hog cholera virus can be spread—by garbage feeding, unskilled vaccinations, streams, visitors, tires, insects and birds—the only safe protection against it in regions where it has occurred, is by vaccination of pigs around weaning time.

people, most new outbreaks of hog cholera can be traced to direct or indirect contact with cholera-infected swine.

Some outbreaks have been caused by feeding garbage containing un-sanitary materials to pigs.

Keep Them Flying

Pigeons have no appreciation of the finer things, as for example, city architecture. A new invention—inverted V-shaped wire pigeon-proofing—keeps them and their unsightly smears off building fascades, cornices and ledges.

Queen Zenobia

"Fetters of gold" fit for a queen were the lot of Zenobia, the great ruler of Palmyra, when she was taken captive by the Roman emperor, Aurelian. Instead of ordering her to die, as he might have done, Aurelian ordered that a beautiful villa be prepared for her at Tivoli, where she spent the rest of her days.

Storing Sweetpotatoes

Store only sound, disease-free potatoes. The first step is to thoroughly clean the house and fumigate it along with all used crates by burning one pound of sulphur for each 1,000 cubic feet of storage space. The house should be made as tight as possible, and it must remain shut up for 24 hours.

Earthquakes

Earthquake specialists who interpret seismograph recordings of the earth's disturbances can now definitely locate an upheaval within a relatively few hours regardless of how far away the stricken region may be.

Doughnuts

A few whole cloves placed in the kettle of fat when frying doughnuts will produce a delicious flavor.
